

This is a printer friendly version of an article from publicopiniononline.com
To print this article open the file menu and choose Print.

Back

Article published May 16, 2005

Ethanol plant poses more dangers

The shipment of many million tons of grain and many gallons/tons of volatile chemicals needed to operate an ethanol plant, as well as the shipment of the ethanol product to refineries, will be a trucking and railroad traffic manager's nightmare.

In Franklin County, there are railroad crossings without crossing gates or signal de-vices. Interstate 81 and local roads through south central Pennsylvania are not among the safest highway networks.

When will common sense be a determinant?

George Schmidt

Fayetteville

- If you have questions about submitting letters to the editor, call Kathy Leedy, editorial page editor, at 262-4761 on weekdays.

Each letter writer is restricted to one letter per 30 days.
